Pendleton County FOOD RESOURCE GUIDE

Connecting Community to Nutrition Resources

Updated October 2025

ABOUT US

We're a group of community organizations working together to fight hunger in our area. We share resources and provide important information to help families get the food they need. This resource guide is to help families connect to local groups providing food assistance. By working together, we make sure everyone in our community has enough to eat. Join us to help feed our neighbors and make our community stronger.

TYPES OF NUTRITION HELP

- Food Distribution
 We give out bags of food to families in need.
- Food Pantry
 A place where you can pick up food when you need it.
- Little Food Pantry
 Small, community pantries where anyone can take or leave food, also known as Blessing Boxes.
- Meal Vouchers
 Coupons you can use to get free meals at certain places or restaurants. They help you get food without paying money.
- Prepared Meals
 Ready-to-eat meals for families who need them.
- Special Programs
 Educational based programs that offer participants resources and/or incentives for participation.
- Emergency Food Relief
 Quick help with food for families in urgent need.

*Use this is a key for types of nutrition help.
